

DISCLAIMER

This disclaimer is intended for all content contained on the Australian and New Zealand Association for the Surgery of Trauma website, including reviews, case scenarios and links to external sources.

Accuracy

Every effort is made to provide information that is accurate. Material contained in this web site, including published protocols and guidelines in addition to expert opinion, are subject to change. Users should check that they are referencing the most recent version.

No Medical Advice

The information posted on this website is general in nature and must not be used for individual patients. Medical practitioners should assess their patients on an individual case by case basis. The case scenarios on this website are to be used as a guide only. The content is not intended to replace consultation with a qualified medical practitioner.

Limitation of Liability

The user of this web site assumes all responsibility and risk for the use of this website. Under no circumstances is anyone involved in creating or maintaining this web site liable for any direct, indirect, incidental, special or consequential damages or lost profits that result from the use of or inability to use the web site and any other web sites which are linked to this site. Persons involved in creating or maintaining this web site are not liable for:

- (a) any loss of property or personal injury (including death); nor
- (b) mistakes (including negligence), omissions, interruptions, deletion of files, viruses, errors, defects, or any failure of performance, communications failure, theft, destruction or unauthorised access resulting from reliance on any information obtained via this web site.

Where any liability referred to above cannot be excluded by law, liability is limited to the greatest extent allowed by law.